

BULLETIN

Official Batting Averages of Western Canada League

President Ekstrom Completed Them a Few Days Ago—All the Games up to July 3 Are Included in the Averages—Something Very Strong About some of the Figures.

The last and fielding averages have come out at last and although the season is pretty far advanced, yet the old saying "better late than never" is quite applicable to this case. There seems to be some rather interesting figures in the batting averages, particularly in the Brandon team which is swatting the pill at a remarkably high average of .216. Although Duck is a good player, no one ever believed that he was bat- tling for the lead in the league. He has been a good player all along, but the other citizens are anything like what he did here, his average would certainly be a long way down from what it is. Duck must have got a real kick out of the fact that he is leading the league in batting average, this number of times at least is a little less than an average of .216 per game, which also looks rather uncommon. Brandon has three players above .300, and the Brandon team has a .300 average, which is a three hundred mark. Edmonton has Vandine and Mills in the .300 circle and they are the leaders of the big lads. Mackin is the real leader of the Brandon team, however, and he has a .300 average, which is a half the number of names as the other two have.

But where are here the official averages and except a couple of discrepancies in the Brandon case, they are quite to be reasonable.

FIELDING

FIELDERS' GAMES. G. P. O. A. Ave.

McDonald, Brandon..... 2 19 .40 .1000

Hartford, Calgary..... 2 12 .32 .1000

McGinnis, Regina..... 2 12 .32 .1000

Neverson, Moose Jaw..... 2 28 .38 .0 .1000

Frederick, Winnipeg..... 2 12 .32 .1000

Holmrich, Brandon..... 2 12 .32 .1000

Duck, Brandon..... 2 12 .32 .1000

McQuarrie, Moose Jaw..... 2 11 .22 .1000

Gillies, Moose Jaw..... 2 11 .22 .1000

Wright, Brandon..... 2 11 .22 .1000

St. John, Brandon..... 2 11 .22 .1000

Klein, Brandon..... 2 11 .22 .1000

McBride, Brandon..... 2 11 .22 .1000

McCurdy, Brandon..... 2 11 .22 .1000

Collins, Brandon..... 2 11 .22 .1000

McCurdy, Brandon..... 2 11 .22 .1000

Sour Stomach
Pills

Non-stimulant, dry, giving relief in the digestive system from gas to the most severe cases of indigestion and flatulence. They relieve constipation, stomach irritation, &c. They have the whole system purified.

Parmelee's VEGETABLE
Pills

AROUND THE CITYLOCALS.

The picnic to be held at Capital Hill by the W.M.S. of McDougall church will be postponed until after the weather. Further announcement will be made.

Concerning the fact that all the preengaging business had been disposed of at Monday night's meeting, there was no mention of it. The old order still stands.

A delegation from the Liberal Association of the Province of Alberta waited on the Attorney-General this morning in order to discuss the proposed changes of the Liquor License Ordinance.

Owing to a miscalculation, it was thought that the bill would be introduced yesterday that a meeting of the amending committee of the two cities would be held on Tuesday evening. It is understood, was not suitable for the Strathcona delegation and the meeting will not be held till the evening or next day.

SYNDICATE BUYS BIRK BLOCK

The Knights Syndicate, known as Townsites Ltd., and represented by Mr. A. G. Birk, has purchased the lot of 114 lots in Dewar, which were owned by a local company headed by George J. Morris. The consideration was $40,000.

TAKES PICTURES TODAY

Owing to the rain yesterday afternoon, the street railway department who were engaged in taking moving pictures of Jasper avenue, it was decided to postpone the taking of the pictures until this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Not less than six men were charged, in the police court, with driving bicycles on the sidewalk. Two were fined $1 and costs, and the others were fined with a fine of $1. The offenders were said to be, Mr. N. Gimard, Charles Wilson, O'Neil Healy, John J. Hayes, and Geo. Crighton.

J. W. Shill was fined $1 and costs, and given a license to drive his bicycle on the street in sufficienty secured.

The greater part of the amount was paid by the bearing of a charge of non-payment of conveyance's license, laid against Mr. Wilson. The hearing will be continued to to-day.

Charges of impulsive disregard, laid by Elmer S. Shantz against Geo. Murray, and a charge of assault and battery laid by the same man against a man named H. L. Smith, were dropped, but whose second name does not appear on the docket. Costs — 25¢ each.

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

The inquiry into the death of D. J. McNamee, 21, who was struck by a street car on Nanaimo avenue, was concluded last night in the police court, and the coroner adjourned the inquest, adjourned from Monday afternoon. All medical witnesses were examined to such full particular as to carefully weighing the evidence submitted, the jury came to the conclusion that the death was due to negligence. There being no ground for attaching blame to the man, the coroner adjourned the inquest, nor the conductor in charge of the car, who gave instructions for releasing the body of McNamee before words.

The jury attached, however, to their verdict, a recommendation that a careful and frequent inspection be made of the fenders and the trips in connection with the street cars, and showed that had the trip and the fender hit the property, there is no doubt that the life of the child would have been saved.

MARSH HOURS NOT CHANGED.

"The hours of marshalling have not been changed," said Capt. D. C. Hollis, manager of the marshals to the business men gathered at the hall. No complaints from the men until now have been received, and many say it is necessary for the change. No one has approached me to say they do not like it. I do not intend to let there be any objection.

The reported change in the hours for marshalling, which was to be made by the council at the instance of Ald. Gowen some weeks ago, did not come about, as the men engaged working a hardship on the farmers because of their best customers, who were compelled to go up till six o'clock and could not purchase directly from them. Ald. Gowen's suggestion was to have the men go to an agitation headed by J. W. Horrocks for the extension of the hours. This was done, and the men viewed Ald. Gowen who is chairman of the market's committee when the latter was present, and he agreed and promised to try to bring about a change. The change was ordered by the council, and the result of the force of the farmers Mr. Horrocks claims has not yet come into effect.

As the winter approaches, the winter, the farmers worked for the early closing of the market in order that the market would be closed earlier. Consequently he does not consider that the present agitation is general among the farmers, and that the new regulation into effect until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the early closing of the market in order that the market would be closed earlier. Consequently he does not consider that the present agitation is general among the farmers, and that the new regulation into effect until the circumstances justify it.

CONFIDENTIAL LETTER GIVEN TO THE PRESS

St. Peter's Indian Reserve Inquiry Begins Today. Some One Bit Determined to Seal Up Papers Belkirk, Aug. 1.—Much of interest

Belkirk, Aug. 1.—Much of interest in the Belkirk Indians developed today at the sitting here of the St. Peter's Indian reserve commission. The question of the right of the Indians to make a living in rather an acute form through the publication in the current issue of the "Saskatchewan" newspaper of a letter addressed to the commissioners by C. H. Fullerton, counsel for the Indians, was put in by the Indians themselves, and the purpose of being proved later. It was this same letter which Mr. Fullerton produced in his defense of the proposed proposal which drew from Judge Myers at the time a question whether the Indians had the right to live in the newspapers and talk about him. Mr. Fullerton and Mr. White today had well-knowned knowledge of the publication.

Account Open for Commissioners

The commissioners said that the commissioners would call and state later in the day what action they proposed to take. Nothing, however, was the question of the commissioners' jurisdiction should be argued tomorrow morning, after the Indians leave.

A feature of the day's proceedings was the offer of William, Frank and George Remington to sell their St. Peter's lands to throw their accounts open to the inspection of Mr. Fullerton. Mr. Remington said his certificate any money found owing to the Indians in his account was held in trust for the Indians.

INDIANS THOROUGHLY Understood.

The doctor explained that he had done his best to understand the Indians.

COMMISSIONERS MEETING.

At the regular meeting of the commissioners yesterday it was decided upon the recommendation of the commissioners to abandon the proposal to purchase trailers for use in transporting the Indians to the school.

The experiment reported that he had made inquiries and had ascertained that the trailers were favored and, it was therefore decided to abandon the project.

AT BRUTAL ASSAULT.

A. N. McKinnon, an elderly man in the employ of the Bulletin, was the victim of a brutal and unprovoked attack by a drunken man whom had taken him into his home for the purpose of giving him a meal.

Mr. McKinnon, in the Blyden office for his home at 70 Clark street at noon. While he was sitting at a table in his office, a man whom had not seen before, entered his residence and asked for a meal. Mr. McKinnon, however, was not at the table and provided him with food.

He showed little gratitude for the meal and, when asked if he wanted what Blyden in his manner, when Mr. McKinnon was ready to return to work he found the door of his house broken in.

When he walked out of the house the man insulted him, repeated his request for food, and, when he had gone some distance he took Mr. McKinnon by surprise and struck him in the face, scratching severe cuts and bruises. Seeing a policeman approaching, the man fled.

STANLEY MINERAL WATER

He gave the man into custody and was conveyed at once to the police station.

MEN WANTED ON G.E.P.

The demand for laborers on the Grand Trunk Pacific, which the mountains continues unabated. Scarcely a day passes that orders are sent out for men to go to the railway west and help in the railway work being vigorously pushed through the country. The men who are doing all the other work going on there, have received that men are wanted to help in the construction of the house and car shops at Pittsburg, the second division point west of Edmonton.

ENTERTAINMENTS

THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH

The fascinating Miss Estelle Atwater, Miss Caldwell, playing the part of "The Ranch," coming to the Empire Theatre, Jasper, on Saturday evening.

This will be the first time the famous musical comedy "The Flower of the Ranch," coming to the Empire Theatre, Jasper, on Saturday evening.

From her very first entrance she has won the admiration of the little bunchkin dress she wears with absolute almost instantly.

AT THE EMPIRE TONIGHT.

Mr. Webster states that the big bridge across the Red Deer River will be sixty feet south of the Red Deer River across from the Grand Trunk building.

Mr. Webster states that the bridge will be started Monday and a start will be made on the Willow River bridge.

Four hundred teams are now engaged in grading operations in the Kainai and Freshfield districts.

Excavations have been made many and are necessary for the change. No one has approached me to say they do not like it. I do not intend to let there be any objection.

The reported change in the hours for marshalling, which was to be made by the council at the instance of Ald. Gowen some weeks ago, did not come about, as the men engaged working a hardship on the farmers because of their best customers, who were compelled to go up till six o'clock and could not purchase directly from them. Ald. Gowen's suggestion was to have the men go to an agitation headed by J. W. Horrocks for the extension of the hours. This was done, and the men viewed Ald. Gowen who is chairman of the market's committee when the latter was present, and he agreed and promised to try to bring about a change. The change was ordered by the council, and the result of the force of the farmers Mr. Horrocks claims has not yet come into effect.

As the winter approaches, the winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not

consider that the present agitation

is general among the farmers, and

that the new regulation into effect

until the circumstances justify it.

The winter, the farmers worked for the

early closing of the market in order

that the market would be closed

earlier. Consequently he does not